*I've got web smarts.
Oh yeah? Where'd you get them?
I got them on the web. Isn't that ironic?*

Andy Lisa's got permission to visit this dot com,
It looks like Lisa's about to log on.

Acacia For this site, she needs a username,
And Lisa's using: "Grade4LisaLane."

Liam Lisa! Whoa! Hit delete right now!
That username makes it easy to figure out

Lily Who you are and your grade at school.
Keep personal info private, that's the first rule,

India No age, school or hometown, either.
I guess that's fine, so you like Justin Bieber?

Avalon Now for your password, what's it going be?

Brahm "J-U-S" No, no, no! Don't tell me!

Jarom Don't tell just anyone, it's a secret,
And make one that no one can guess, I mean it.

Carter Use letters, numbers and even symbols,
Make it tricky, like a riddle.

OK, Lisa, now you're online,
Jack And you're going places, like an airline.

Trevor T. You can learn a lot, and you look excited,
Ella But make sure to set your settings to private.

Sam There's all types of people on the internet,

Sophia H. And 100% of them you probably never met.

Sophie R. Don't respond if a stranger chats with you,

Sheila Maybe you're 10, but they could be 42!

Quinsi So don't send photos or share your address;

Seth That's the way to online safety success.

Emery Getting online is amazing, you'll love it,

Kate/Kallie But first get your web smarts to 100.

Ella So you go online, right?
And you're surfing the web like every night.

Abby/Kate *That's cool, but make sure that you think through
Where you go, what you do and with who.*

Kate/Kallie *So you go online, right?
And you're surfing the web like every night.*

Mya *That's cool, but make sure that you think through
Where you go, what you do and with who.*

Sophie L *Lisa, I heard you signed up for Gmail,
And it looks like you just got an email.*

Libby *There's an attachment that you can download
Sent from the email "ClownJoe."*

Gabriel *Don't click, do you know the clown?
If you don't know the sender, don't click around.*

Jamis *Sometimes you might get sent a virus,
Which is a piece of code that'll cause a crisis.*

Jackson *It might break your computer, or steal your info,
So only open emails from your kinfolk.*

Ben *Same thing goes for pop-up windows:
If they promise you a Justin Bieber intro,*

Max Those are scams, click X to close.
Same thing if you get a link via text, like whoa,

Jack Because a smartphone is a computer, too,
Since it does all the things a computer can do.

Trevor T. And Lisa, I can't cover everything here,
So if it gets hairy, grab an adult that's there.

Garett Whether you got a Macbook Pro or a flip,
Now I know you know how to handle it.

Ben So you go online, right?
And you're surfing the web like every night.

Brockton That's cool, but make sure that you think through
Where you go, what you do and with who.

Logan So you go online, right?
And you're surfing the web like every night.

Garett That's cool, but make sure that you think through
Adlee Where you go, what you do and with who.
